Meeting At Courthouse To Discuss Bridge Site

Friday morning, October 13, at 10:00 o'clock the people of Hancock County responded in force to the call for a public meeting with Highway Commissioners and State Engineers to voice their opinions and preferences concerning the location of the proposed highway bridge over the Bay of St. Louis.

The meeting, held in the Court House in Bay St. Louis, was very well attended by every citizen who had an interest in the project.

The meeting was opened by Mr. H. H. LeTissier, who introduced Mr. John Smith, State Highway Commissioner for the Southern District. Mr. Smith spoke on roads in Mississippi and the funds to build and maintain them, and stated that three sites had been investigated for the proposed new four-lane bridge at Bay St. Louis. When asked by Jos. Schaff where the State Highway Commission would like to have the bridge, Mr. Smith answered that so far as the Commission was concerned, it had no preference, but was guided solely by what the Engineering Department found to be best for the traveling public, not only for the present time but for many years to come.

Mr. Smith introduced Mr. A. Harris of the State Engineers, who said that in connection with the estimates his Department had prepared, "it makes no difference with us where the bridge is placed. We have prepared estimates at the best figures we can obtain for this construction. This problem is one to be decided at length not hastily nor arbitrarily, but needs the best investigation we are able to give to you people as to what it would cost to build a facility of this kind."

The first survey was made on the North line, the second on Uman Avenue and the third one on an intermediate line. From these surveys it was found that there was no decided difference between the North line and Uman Avenue.

Mr. Harris read the following figures: North line complete $7,600,061; Uman Avenue, $8,113,448. North line bridge estimated at $7,088,000; Uman Avenue bridge $7,320,000. Highway approach at North line, $3,488; Roadway approach on Uman Ave., $427,200. Utility costs on Uman, $85,937; on North line, $2,950. Right-of-way on North line, $115,000; on Uman Avenue, right-of-way, $235,000. Preliminary costs for surveying, borings, etc., $20,311.00.

Mr. Smith said that two million dollars were allocated for roads and their upkeep in the Southern District, and since the pay-as-you-go plan has been put into operation, that is, building roads as the money is acquired, it was found necessary to have a toll bridge across Bay St. Louis. The traveling public and the residents of Bay St. Louis will pay for the bridge. He said he had suggested to the Highway Commission that the Mississippi Gulf Coast belongs to the State of Mississippi and the whole state should help pay for the bridge, and not have to toll to penalize Hancock County, but State funds are limited, and roads are needed in the Central and Northern Districts as well as in the Southern District, and the State cannot assume the full financial responsibility of building the bridge.

Mr. Norman Renshaw asked if Highway 90 bridge and approach at Bay St. Louis were to be the only four-lane highway between Texas and Florida, and why should it be four lanes, if a two-lane bridge would suffice at much smaller cost. Mr. Harris answered that in spending such a sum of money it would be better to spend a little more money and build a four-lane bridge which would serve future generations as well as the present one.

Mr. Smith read three objections, which he had received, against having the bridge on Uman Avenue. One was the removal of the water tank to make a wider roadway approach to the bridge; another, the close proximity of the traffic bridge to the railroad bridge would not allow sufficient space for the passage of fishing boats (at this everyone guffawed); and third, the location of Bay Central School on a busy highway.

There was some discussion as to the merits of the two-lane highway against the four-lane rightway, and Mr. Smith reminded his audience that they were there, not to discuss the two-lane or four-lane highway question, but the location of the bridge and approach, whether on Uman Avenue or the North line at the Perkins property.

There was also some discussion as to the grade of the approach on the North end as compared with the present location and whether or not there would be an overpass. Mr. Smith said there was no contemplation of an overpass and the grade would be at the level of the present approach if the bridge were placed at the north end. That would necessitate the fill of an estimated eleven to fifteen feet.

Mr. Roebuck, State Highway Commissioner, told the gathering that a new highway by-passed his town against the wishes of the residents of that town, and several years later, the same residents admitted that the Engineers had exercised good judgment in placing the road in the new location. Referring to Mr. Smith's remarks about a toll bridge, he said that it would be impossible to gain the consent of State Highway Commissioners representing the Central and Northern parts of the state to allocate additional funds for roads in the Southern part when new roadways are so badly needed in other parts of the state.

Mr. Henry Osoinach asked Mr. Smith if the opinion of the people of Bay St. Louis had any weight, if not, time taken up at the meeting was wasted. Mr. Osoinach held the floor, but yielded to other questions, and asked three times of the desire of the residents of Bay St. Louis to have the bridge remain at Uman Avenue as evidenced by those present would be considered, or would the Highway Commission place the bridge where they wanted it. He was not answered.

State Senator Cornelius Ladner said that if the State Highway Commission wanted the bridge at Uman Avenue, they could place it there, and that he, like everyone else in Bay St. Louis, insists that it be kept on Uman Avenue. Mr. Cooper suggested that a rising vote be taken to determine how many present wanted the bridge at the north end and how many at Uman Avenue. About that time Mr. Osoinach asked again if the people of Bay St. Louis had any voice in the matter.

The meeting was never formally adjourned. People simply walked off, and nothing definite was determined.

Chamber of Commerce Proposes Another Meeting to Settle Question of Location Of New Bay St. Louis Bridge

The Board of Directors met Tuesday, October 17 at the offices of the REA at which time it was brought out that Mr. John D. Smith, Highway Commissioner, has agreed to come to the Bay within the next few days, at which time a locating crew of engineers will come in to run another line on Uman Avenue in an effort to eliminate some of the undesirable features of the original survey. With a concerted effort by all interested parties, there is every reason to believe that the new bridge can be built on the site of the present one. If we quit trying, of course, that will be another story.

It is suggested by the Directors that on Saturday, November 4 on which date the REA will hold their annual open house, giving away many valuable prizes and with all sorts of appliances on display at Bay High School, that the local merchants make every effort to attract the 2500 visitors that will be here for the day, by putting on special sales, etc., using splash ads and let everyone know that the Old Bay is still on the map. This is the third annual affair of this type and if we all pull together, we can make it bigger and better each year, which in turn will mean more business.

The Board decided to hold weekly meetings that they may better keep up with local affairs and to offer at all times, any assistance that the Chamber of Commerce may be able to render. We believe that when business is off a little, that by pulling together and working out schemes that will create interest and stimulate sales, we can help ourselves as individuals, which in turn will help our community.

Sidewalk Soliloquies...

The Beachcomber

Something I've been noticing of late on the street hereabouts... children on bikes... now whether it's our child or the neighbor's... it's still a child with all the fuel of pigment that all children have... one roll under the wheel of a spinning car... that's all... I have heard complaints to the effect that something should be done... or to try to impress the kids as to the danger... or a penalty of some description where the parent are concerned... anyhow, something should be done before some child has to be at court... the child being a child it follows that the blame and responsibility is going to fall on the shoulders of some grown person... Who? The parents or the officer of the car that does the damage? Who can extract the situation... the parents for turning the child loose upon the bike... or the City Authorities for not enforcing some type of City ordinance to meet and deal with the situation? Mrs. Dow Samuels was lost to the east of the Little Theatre play "The Late Christopher Bean" for a cast dinner... understand a good time was had by all... Well, Mr. Smith, the State Highway Commissioner was in our midst for a few hours... the purpose... to explain to the people of Bay St. Louis about the new bridge... and listen to the suggestions... result? Every one knows now where the bridge is going! Mr. Smith has apparently known for some time... never saw quite so much verbal shadow boxing... so much evasive action... beautiful to watch how the Commissioner sidestepped some of the questions... can't help but admire that kind of mental footwork... Fast!... S. J. Peters was taken to a cleaning last Sunday and how... those St. Stanislaus lads were out for a payoff... ought to be some good games ahead.

WAVELAND WANDERINGS

By Mrs. Georgette Hall

The extreme dryness of recent weeks proved what a hazard dry grass and other foliage can be last Friday and Saturday when the Waveland fire truck was kept busy putting out three separate fires which threatened homes and other property in the immediate areas of the fires. The first fire alarm was sounded Friday night and after fighting flames for the better part of the night and morning the fire crews were called to fight two other fires.

The first fire was to the rear of the Torgerson residence on Beach Boulevard. The other fires were in the general vicinity of the Aiken property near Railroad Avenue and in Clermont Harbor. All of the members of the Waveland Volunteer Department volunteered their services, among them were Ed Phillips, president of the Volunteer Department, Cornelius Herlihy, Chief, Richard Noonan, Chief Engineer, Wallace Bourgeois and Pat Loomie, Assistant Chief Engineers, C. O. Dufour, Secretary, and Fred Herlihy, Treasurer. Lee Farrel, Pee Wee Ladner, Oswald Villiers, Mr. Ladner and other citizens also helped in the fire fighting. After the fires were extinguished the fire truck had to have some repair work done on it.

At the present time there is a great need for a fire truck in Waveland. The necessity for a fire truck in Waveland was shown this week. These fires might have resulted in a great loss of property. Much credit is due those citizens who donated their time and efforts. It also might be noted that at a recent meeting it was decided that if Waveland needed the aid of the Bay St. Louis Fire Department, the services of this department would be available. Waveland will in turn reciprocate this service if fires in Bay St. Louis get hard to handle.

There were several Wavelanders who motored to New Orleans last Saturday to see the gridiron tussle between the Tulane Green Wave and the Fighting Irish from Notre Dame. Among them were Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Hubbard, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Guy Drew and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Elliott, and Mr. and Mrs. Allen Ansley. Mr.

and Mrs. Norman B. Hall, Jr., who were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Walter James Phillips and Mr. M. A. Phillips.

Miss Ann Hubbard spent the week end with Miss Dates Loup of New Orleans. Ann attended several parties while in the city.

Mr. Irma Oppenheimer of New Orleans, cousin of Mrs. Clarence Hays, is spending a week in Waveland as Mrs. Hays's guest.

Dick Breneskie celebrated his seventh birthday on Wednesday of last week by giving a party at the Waveland School for his classmates and teacher, Miss Mary Margaret Turcotte. The children enjoyed ice cream and cake and played games. Young Dick is the son of Mrs. C. O. Dufour.

Mr. Henry Carrio of New Orleans spent the week end in Waveland as a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Turcotte, Sr.

Miss Shirley Turcotte also spent the week end with her parents, the Walter Turcottes, Sr.

Mr. Adrian Hays, son of Mrs. Clarence Hays, spent Friday through Sunday with his mother. "Buddy" is a student in the Loyola Dental School.

Louis Ladner, son of Mayor and Mrs. Garfield Ladner, had a birthday on October 15. Louis counted fourteen candles on his birthday cake. Here's wishing this fine youngster many more happy birthdays.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hall were guests at a reception given for the Pass Christian teachers Sunday afternoon at the Pass Christian Yacht Club. Punch and cake were enjoyed in the afternoon and later on in the evening teachers, parents and other friends enjoyed a delicious chicken dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Brockman visited Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Brockman, Jr., in Gulfport Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. McKay and granddaughters, Sally and Kay, are back from a most enjoyable trip to Memphis and Lookout Mountain.

COAST COUNCIL GARDEN CLUBS MEET IN BILOXI COMMUNITY HOUSE

The meeting of the Coast Council of Garden Clubs was held on Friday afternoon at Biloxi Community House with Mrs. J. E. Wiggins, vice-president of Pascagoula, opening the meeting in the absence of Mrs. Eugene Mogabgab, president. Mrs. Mogabgab attended the Southern Regional meeting of Garden Clubs in Petal, Miss., Friday morning and so could not arrive at the Council meeting until after the program. Mrs. Wiggins turned the meeting over to Mrs. James McElroy, Jr., president of Magnolia Garden Club of Biloxi, to introduce the program chair man, who in turn introduced Mrs. Olivia Marvia, who played two accordion solos, "Gloria" and "Magnolia".

Waltz. The musical program was followed by a most interesting talk by Mr. Frutcher Stechler, who spoke on plants and the care of plants.

Mr. Stechler said that in planting trees it is better to think of future generations and plant the trees that will endure. In planting oaks, it is much better to plant a live oak, than a pin oak or a water oak. In transplanting trees, such as the dogwood, the magnolia, and the oak, the best method is to dig a trench around the roots one year, and go back the next to dig up and ball the tree. A tree with one trunk is much better than a forked trunk. Shrubs on the other hand, are better not so tall, but with many full branches. The care given in preparing the ground to transplant camellias and azaleas, and trees, will help toward their successful growth and much care must be exercised during the first year as the shock to the plant in transplanting it is very great. The care during the first year will help an early bloom and long life to the plant.

Mrs. Mogabgab arrived just at the end of Mr. Stechler's instructive talk, and conducted the business part of the meeting, including the roll call with representation from thirteen clubs and various reports, followed by discussion of the Spring Pilgrimage. It was decided that at each meeting Clubs would have a display table, showing the articles which they sponsored to raise funds, such as subscriptions, gardening gloves, etc.

The president, or representative, of each club present told of the project of the year. The projects varied from having the lowly garbage can to beautifying Beauvoir, city parks, Yacht Clubs and building a suitable Garden Center in which to hold meetings.

The entrance prizes were:

1. Monstera Deliciosa, donated by Mrs. Stechler, won by Mrs. D. D. Entrant.
2. Fuchsia Azalea, by Morgan Nursery at Ocean Springs, won by Mrs. R. W. Dickman.

Think twice today
when you buy a truck!

THAT new truck you're considering may have to last a long time. So you'll be wise to look at a GMC for these important reasons:

GMC's are built by the world's largest exclusive manufacturer of commercial vehicles — with the broadest truck engineering experience.

GMC's are real trucks. Engine, transmission and frame, as well as cab and axles, are all specially truck-built to give you longer service.

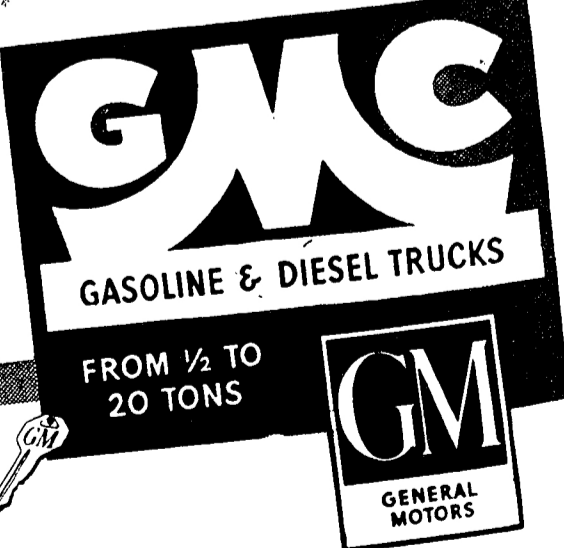

GMC truck-built engines have high horsepower with higher sustained torque—greater pulling power. They are built to give extra years of service with less maintenance.

GMC extra-value features include Synchro-Mesh transmission, Tocco-hardened crankshaft, full-pressure lubrication, recirculating ball-bearing steering gear, airplane-type bearings and Lifetime Weathersealed cabs as standard equipment on practically all models from 1/2 ton up.

That's why more truckers are buying GMC's today than ever before—experience proves them best in the long haul!
